Aaron D. Paker (253) 838-3454 (253) 237-7036 (direct) (253) 838-9268 (fax) apaker@lifepointlaw.com		I am an elder law attorney. As a firm we handle estate planning, Life Planning (EP on steroids to look at retirement holistically over the course of 12-18 months), probate, and Crisis (mostly Medicaid LTC). I currently handle the probates but hope to train one of our associates soon. I am most recognized for my Medicaid planning and applications. I am on the Board of Directors for the Washington Academy of Elder Law Attorneys (WAEA) and both that organization and the WSBA Elder Law Section generally recognize me as the leading authority for Medicaid work, especially after a recent fair hearing that resulted in overturning denials for at least 12 applicants, including 9 that were not my clients. The brief from that hearing is being used by the State to help create training for the financial workers reviewing applications. I used to teach early childhood and became a paralegal when a career change was necessary. I wanted to work with kids or civil litigation but a combination of many circumstances landed me in one elder law firm that convinced me that I hated elder law and then my current one. I could not spell Medicaid correctly but was told I needed to become a specialist. I realized that I loved it and after 6 months I was reviewing the attorneys' work and suggesting better options and within a year and half my boss told me to go to law school so that I could give advice directly to clients instead of explaining it to my supervisors so that they could give it to the clients. The satisfaction of seeing an immediate impact on the lives of my clients keeps me going on a daily basis.

I also assist clients in eliminating or minimizing state and/or federal estate taxes. Business Issues: I help clients with business and tax law issues such as business formations, day to day contracts, and sales/purchases of a business. I particularly enjoy assisting with succession planning especially for family-owned businesses. For business clients who are buying or selling businesses, I assist with real estate transactions related to the transaction (transfer deeds, REETA’s, leases). Estate Administration / Probate: I work with clients who have had a death in the family, dealing with issues of whether to open a probate, transfer of assets, creditors’ claims, and collection under beneficiary designations. Location: I meet with clients by appointment in Browne’s Addition near downtown Spokane. I serve clients in Spokane and surrounding counties in eastern Washington, but I also work with clients in the greater Seattle area, using phone, Zoom and occasional in-person meetings at the client’s office or home. I will schedule home appointments if the client cannot travel.

Rachel K. Roberts Slide Alder Law PLLC (206) 724-7386 Rachel@slidealderlaw.com		My "sweet spots": I do estate planning for people of low to moderate means (you need a will even if you don't have much money!), family-based immigration and citizenship certificates (the Real ID Act has led to a few of my clients who were born abroad realizing they actually have no proof of US citizenship), and tenant-side landlord-tenant work.
Rebecca Gandy Gandy Legal Services, LLC PO Box 487 Corbett, OR 97019-0487 (971) 394-9237 rebgandy@gmail.com		I am new to Washington practice, with a dozen or so years of estate planning in Oregon. My niche is folks with Oregon estate planning issues. I also practice trauma-informed techniques which I believe invaluable for this type of work. Clients are often grieving and anxious, and I am grateful for my background in advocacy which helps me support them in the journey.

Sandra J. Coke Coke Law, PLLC (206) 799-0871 sandra@cokelaw.com		My "sweet spot": I help people with their wills, powers of attorney, and healthcare directives. Doesn't sound like much, but I've discovered there are lots of folks everywhere that do not have these basic legal documents in their possession. Intestate is not a pretty word. I'm also a (mobile) notary. I'm now based out of Ocean Shores, but regularly travel north as far as Seattle.
Sara D. Longley Justin C. Jones, LLM, PC (360) 378-4450 ext. 107 (360) 468-7230 (direct) Slongley@pnwtaxlaw.com www.pnwtaxlaw.com		My sweet spot is in the areas of estate planning and probate, spanning the range from "simple" estates up to more complex tax planning using trusts and other mechanisms to minimize estate tax. I handle all of our firm's probate matters and the majority of our estate planning, though I refer very high net worth clients to our other attorney, Justin Jones, who is more well-versed than I in complex planning and planning around business assets. We have offices in Seattle and on Lopez Island, but much of our work is done remotely so we can serve clients throughout Washington for most purposes. Justin Jones is also licensed in Oregon and Idaho.

Setareh Mahmoodi Law Offices of Setareh Mahmoodi, PS 18222 104th Ave NE, Suite 103 Bothell, WA 98011 (425) 806-1500 (425) 489-4142 (fax) SM@lawofficesofsm.com www.lawofficesofsm.com		My practice focuses on estate planning and administration (both simple and complex), business law (formation and governance, contracts, commercial leases, tax matters, general advising, simple trademarks, etc.), tax (including IRS and state audits, delinquent tax liabilities, offers in compromise, and installment agreements and tax planning for EP clients), and bankruptcy (individual and business) and creditor/debtor representation. I feel fortunate to have been able to narrow my practice to the areas I enjoy and have gained significant experience in. Many of my clients also need support in more than one of these areas, such as business owners who also need estate planning or who have tax issues, so it has worked well in allowing me to continue helping clients across multiple needs.
